

Sharing the Stories of Canyons and Caves

Project Title	Sharing the Stories of Canyons and Caves
Project Summary	Help us tell the story of research, volunteerism and resource management at Carlsbad Caverns National Park. Join the editorial team to proofread and layout "Canyons and Caves", the park's newsletter for Resource Stewardship and Science.
Country	United States

Project Description

Carlsbad Caverns National Park provides unparalleled opportunities to see southwestern wildlife, desert plants, majestic limestone mountains, and hidden caves. The park is many things to people who come to experience its wonders. It is especially important to scientists as a place to investigate cave geology, as well as desert plants and wildlife. Volunteers and park staff work hard to protect and preserve these outstanding resources.

As part of the editorial team for "Canyons and Caves", you will help share these stores with the public. "Canyons and Caves" is the newsletter of the park's Resource Stewardship and Science" division. You'll be involved in text and photo editing, proofreading, layout, and more.
